Rev. Key Wesley Taylor

During 32 years of pastoral service in the United Methodist Church, lifelong bachelor Key Wesley Taylor, served as father figure to scores of divinity students, was a social prophet, an excellent preacher, and a committed rural pastor. Named for him, the Key Taylor Award is given each year at the Annual Conference to call attention to the mission work of all rural churches by honoring the specific achievements of one rural church.

The church Rev. Taylor founded, Wesley United Methodist Church near Farmville, NC, will host a celebration of what would have been his 101st birthday on July 30, 2008, from 9:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. Vernon Tyson, a Methodist minister, and Conrad Mozingo, a Wesley Church member, are conveners. All who wish to honor this remarkable man of God who touched so many are invited to attend.

Wesley United Methodist Church is located at 2979 Wesley Church Road (Take Exit 66 off Highway 264), Farmville, North Carolina, 252-753-3443. For more information, contact Vernon Tyson (919-832-7176) or Conrad Mozingo (252-753-2700).
